Charles William Gedultig of St. Joseph, died suddenly Monday, Sept. 27, at about 12:30 p.m., at the home of Dr. J. W. Mather of Lamoni, Iowa, cerebral hemorrhage being the cause.

Mr. Gedultig had gone to Lamoni to oversee the barreling of a large contract of apples. He was taken seriously ill Sunday night about 8 o'clock, and grew rapidly worse and passed quietly away at thirty minutes past noon.

His son William was with him at the time of his death, and on Tuesday accompanied the body to St. Joseph. Funeral services were held at the home of William Bowman, Rev. Sam Divinia, assisted by Rev. George L. Engler, officiating. The body was laid to rest in the family lot in Savannah cemetery.

Mr. Gedultig was born in Fredrick [sic] county, Maryland, Dec. 12, 1845, and for more than forty years he has lived on the farm near St. Joseph.

He was a kind, genial man, making many warm friends everywhere. He was a member and supporter of the Presbyterian church at Union.

Of his family there remain one son, William, who is an apple buyer; five daughters, Mrs. Dr. Crowson of Stewartsville, Mrs. C. C. Miller of Union Ridge, Mrs. W. H. Bowman, Mrs. Frank Smith and Mrs. Charles Miller of St. Joseph, Mo. These and a host of friends lament his departure. Mr. Gedultig reached the age of 63 years, 9 months and 15 days.

The family feel [sic] very grateful for the kindness shown by the people of Lamoni as well as by those at home.

Date of death: 24 Jan 1887

Subject: Ezra Gedultig

Source: St. Joseph [MO] Daily Herald, 25 Jan 1887, p. 4

Mr. Jedultig [sic], an old gentleman eighty years of age, and who lives near Avenue City, went to his son Charles, who lives in the same neighborhood, last Saturday, and after eating a supper started to pay another relative a visit. He was found next morning about 8 o'clock, in an unconscious condition, lying in the road. He had laid in the snow all night. He was removed to his home and the best of medical skill summoned. He is not expected to live.

Ezra Gedultig, whom The Herald mentioned as being picked up in the snow on the road home from a visit to his son, died yesterday at about 8 o'clock. Mr. Gedultig had been to this city with his son Charley, the day before, and returning with his son in the evening he started to his own home at four o'clock in the afternoon. The father and son lived half a mile apart. On the following morning, about 8 o'clock, he was discovered in the roadway, where he had perhaps lain since the evening before. His body was covered with snow. He had a sack with the day's purchases with him when he left his son's residence, but the sack and contents were found further back on the road, showing that he had been attacked with some disease, and that he had dropped the bundle in order that he might reach his home while he thought he could. He was found in the roadway, as above related, and taken to his home nearby, where he lingered from eight o'clock on Sunday morning, until about eight o'clock yesterday morning, when he died.

Deceased was 80 years old last December. It is supposed he had a stroke of apoplexy while on the road to his home. Mr. Gedultig came to this vicinity from Maryland about twenty years ago, locating near Troy, Kansas. He had been living near this city about six years. He leaves a family of several grown-up children. The funeral will take place this afternoon. The services will be held at the residence, eight miles above this city, at 10 o'clock this morning, conducted by the Rev. Mitch. Miller, after while the funeral procession will take up its way to this city, the intention being to inter the remains in the Catholic cemetery here. Deceased belonged to no church, but his mother was a devout Catholic, and her remains rest in Calvary cemetery. Permission from the vicar general has been obtained to place those of her son beside her.

Edwin Gee.

Was born in Andrew county, Missouri, May 20, 1843, lived there until thirty years of age when he moved to Kansas, where he remained until eleven years ago, when he with his family moved to Oklahoma.

He was married to Miss Rachael A. Thrailkill Oct. 20, 1867.

There were nine children, six sons and three daughters, all of which survive the father except two sons who died four years ago.

Out of a large family there is one brother, C. E. Gee, of Rosendale, Missouri, and one sister, Mrs. Lucy Patton, of Siloam Springs, that survives him.

Mr. Gee was at one time a Free Mason. He spent four years of his life in the Confederate Army.

At the age of 19 he gave his heart to God and united with the Christian church, since which time he has been a devout believer in the Christian religion. At the time of his death his membership was at Ashland, Kansas.

Several weeks ago he had a stroke of paralysis. After a little time he was rational, and it was hoped he would soon recover, but in a few weeks it was seen there was no hope. Time would soon reveal the inevitable. He became unconscious, and in this state lingered on several days. On the morning of July 1st, at two o'clock, his spirit took its flight.

The subject of this sketch was a man of strong convictions. He lived and dealt with men as he thought was right.

Kingfisher loses a good citizen, the family a devoted husband and father.

'Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord.'

Funeral services were conducted at the Christian church today at 2 p.m. by Elder Isom Roberts.--
The Kingfisher, Okla. Times.

The above is an uncle of Messrs. C. C., G. W. and Ross Gee, of this county, and his wife is a sister of James Thrailkill, of near Nodaway.

On Thursday evening, August 4, 1892, the angel of death visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Gee and took from them their only child, Georgie Elizabeth, aged 18 months. The parents have the sympathy of the entire community as this is the fourth time they have had a little coffin carried from their home. None save God knows the anguish of their hearts. We trust the Lord may comfort them with the consolation He alone can give. He says of such is the Kingdom of Heaven, and we know little Georgie is now in company with her little sister and brothers that have gone before. Papa, Mama, they can never come to you, but you will live so that when freed from this world of sorrow, you can be at rest with them.

Warren W. Gee died suddenly in Denver, Colorado, Sunday afternoon, November 26, 1922, at the age of 29 years, 11 months, and 5 days. His burial services were held at the M. E. Church, South, Thursday afternoon, November 30. The address was given by Rev. Johnson, pastor of the M. E. Church, South. Rev. Davidson, pastor of the Baptist Church assisted in the rites. The body was laid at rest in the Savannah [sic] cemetery with rites of the Masonic order.

Mr. Gee went to Colorado three years ago after he failed to recover entirely from a severe attack of the influenza. He was greatly improved and it was thought that he was recovering nicely from his lingering illness but Sunday while out walking he fell, tearing the new tissues of his lungs and causing a hemorrhage. He died two hours later.

He is survived by his wife, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Murphy, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Gee, one sister, Mrs. C. P. Buis of Kansas City, and three brothers, Carl F., of Los Angeles, Roy H. and Walter C.

Obituary next week.

Edward Genther died at his home four miles southwest of Rosendale at 2:45 p.m., April 1, 1909, aged 65 years, 1 month and 8 days. His death was due to catarrh of the stomach, from which he suffered many months. He displayed great courage and patience in trying to subdue his malady that he might remain with his beloved family. Yet God willed that he should go on before. He was born Feb. 21, 1854, in Cass county, Illinois. When a lad he came with his parents to Andrew county, where he lived continuously with the exception of twelve years near Fairbury, Nebraska. He belonged to the A. O. U. W. fraternity of that place.

He became a member of the Rosendale Presbyterian church some eight years ago, and has since been a faithful member of that organization. His wife was Miss Margaret Blair, to whom he was married in 1876. She with their six children survive [sic] him. His sons are George T. Genther and Wm. A. Genther, both of this county. The daughters are Mrs. L. H. Graff of Rosendale, Mrs. John Baum of St. Joseph, Miss Minna M. Genther and Miss Clare B. Genther.

Services were held at the home at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon, April 2; interment at Bennet [sic] Lane. The pall-bearers were his nephews George L. Norris, Carl Genther, Clarence and Paul Christianson and Roy Blair, all of this county except G. Roy Genther of Fairbury. In his death the community loses a value citizen, the church a faithful consistent member and the family a devoted husband and father.

Fairbury, Neb., Dec. 14.-- The funeral of the late Henry Genther occurred at the family residence, four miles northwest of this city, at 10 o'clock yesterday. Rev. J. A. Baker of the First M. E. church delivered the address and the A.O.U.W. of which order the deceased was a member, conducted the services. The deceased was an old and highly respected citizen of Jefferson county, having a very wide circle of acquaintances. He had been an invalid for about a year prior to his demise, suffering from a complication of diseases, dropsy being the immediate cause of his death. The last rites were participated in by an immense crowd and the esteem in which the deceased was held was evidenced by many expressions of profoundest sorrow.

Elliott-- In Vernon county, Mo., on Sunday, January 26, 1879, at the residence of her son, Richard G. Bryan, of dropsy, Mrs. Analyza Elliott, in the 69th year of her age.

Deceased was a daughter of the late Gen. Richard Gentry, of Boone county, Mo., and sister of T. B. Gentry, Esq., of Columbia, and was born in Madison county, Kentucky, December 27, 1810. She came to Missouri with her parents in 1815, and was married on the 19th day of January, 1836, in Columbia, to Mr. John H. Bryan, with whom she lived until his death in 1849.

On the 4th day of July, 1854, she was married to Mr. Robert Elliott, of Savannah, Mo., who survives her. She was a lady of great amiability of character, possessed a remarkable memory, was warmly attached to her friends and relations, and devoted to religion and her church.

She was a teacher of extensive experience, beginning as an assistant of Miss Lucy Wales, in teaching the first school of importance, for young ladies, ever taught in Columbia. Besides a number of private and district schools, she assisted Rev. Tyre Harris at the old Columbia Female Academy. About the year 1850 she became the principal of the Grand River Academy, at Trenton, Grundy county, Mo., and was teaching in Savannah, Mo., at the time of her marriage with Mr. Elliott.

The closing part of her life was a long season of much bodily distress, as she was afflicted with chronic asthma which was followed by dropsy. She bore all with Christian fortitude, assured that her light affliction which was but for a moment was working for her a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory. Before her death, having a little respite from pain, she engaged freely in conversation with many friends, her husband and an aged minister. The subject of religion was one she was exceedingly familiar with, and she loved to talk on it. Her faith in her Redeemer was unwavering, and she delighted to reaffirm the profession of that faith of which she was no ashamed. When parting from her husband, she declared her hope and conviction that they would meet in one of the 'many mansions' in their Father's house. Soon after her union with the church Mrs. Elliott asked for a class in the Sabbath-school, and so made a beginning as a working Christian. She was an efficient and acceptable teacher, painstaking, honest, and punctual. She always identified herself with the working women of the church, and was so reckoned till the last. Her work is done. She walks no more by faith but by sight. Her last on earth was peace, and she has entered into eternal peace.

Subject: Clifton David Gentry

Clifton D. Gentry was born in Madison county, Kentucky, November 22, 1844, and when two or three years old moved with his parents to Missouri. He lived there until about eighteen years old when he engaged for a time freighting from Missouri to Denver. After spending three years in Colorado, at the age of twenty-three, he settled at St. Stephens, a town in the eastern part of Richardson county, now extinct.

Mr. Gentry lived at St. Stephens until 1881 when he bought, moved onto, and improved the farm home three miles south of stella, the lumber for the house being the first bill of lumber ever sold in Stella. He lived on this farm until eight years ago when he bought and moved to the home in Stella where he resided at the time of his death.

Mr. Gentry was married to Miss Sarah E. Jones at St. Stephens, January 26, 1871, and to them were born five children: Lee T. Gentry of Maple City, Kansas; Charles Edward Gentry of Hobart, Oklahoma; Henry J. Gentry, who lives on the home place, and Ninon who lives with her mother. One child died in infancy, and was buried at Arago. The family were all present for the funeral except Edward who was just recovering from a severe attack of grip and was unable to come.

Mr. Gentry was always a man of splendid character and exemplary habits. When a young man he united with the Methodist church south at St. Stephens, and was for a time Sunday school superintendent at that place. He became a Mason in 1883, being a charter member of the Stella Lodge No. 105. He was a trustee almost continuously from the formation of the lodge until the time of his death besides holding other offices in the lodge. Mr. Gentry was absent from very few meetings of the lodge in all those years. It is safe to say no other member had been present at so many meetings of the lodge as he, and the high esteem in which he was held by his brethren was attested by the large number of Masons present at his funeral and participating in the service.

Mr. Gentry was a public spirited citizen, taking a lively interest in everything for the betterment of the town and community. Since coming to town he had served four years as mayor. He had also been precinct assessor and had served the public in various other ways. The business houses were closed during the hour of the funeral service in mark of respect.

Aside from his uncompromising integrity, his most pronounced trait of character was his unfailing punctuality in all things. Any duty or trust assumed by him, or imposed upon him, was always performed to the best of his ability, and at exactly the appointed time. His was a fine upstanding character, and his familiar figure, his pleasant smile and his friendly greeting will be much missed.

Died at his home in Stella, February 4, 1918, after a very brief illness, and was buried in Stella cemetery, February 7. The funeral was held at the home, and was conducted by the Masonic fraternity. Rev. George M. Gates, pastor of the Methodist church and a member of the Masonic order, who knew Mr. Gentry for more than thirty-five years, preached the sermon. The text was from Psalms 90:12, 'So teach us to number our days that we apply our hearts to wisdom.' Rev. David of the Baptist church led in prayer. A quartette composed of Mrs. Tomlinson, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Kimsey and Professor Stanley sang 'God moves in a Mysterious Way,' 'My Father Knows' and 'Beautiful Isles [sic] of Somewhere.'

The floral offerings were many and beautiful including a pillow from the family, of lilies, roses, carnations and ferns bearing the word 'Father;' an emblem piece from the Masonic order in carnations and roses; carnations from the Baptist church, copper colored roses from the Social Circle, and carnations from the Methodist choir.

Relatives present at the funeral were Robert J. and Jefferson Gentry, brothers, from Salem; a nephew, William Gentry, from Humboldt; Mrs. Laura Gilroy of Falls City and Mrs. Martin Harris of Dawson, neices [sic]; Mrs. Gentry's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Jones of Abilene, Kansas; and her sister, Miss Addie Jones of Tarkio, Mo.

Jefferson Gentry, father of C. D. Gentry of this place, died at the home of his son, John T. Gentry southwest of Dawson on Tuesday July 8, 1902, aged 83 years, 9 months and 24 days. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. A. W. Henry at the Christian church south of Dawson, at 11:30 on Wednesday morning July 9. The remains were laid to rest in the Dawson cemetery.

Mr. Gentry was born in Madison county, Kentucky, September 14, 1818. He was married to Elizabeth Fillett [sic], daughter of Captain Fillet [sic], in his native county September 23, 1841. He was the father of twelve children, five girls and seven boys. He leaves a wife and eight children to mourn the loss of a kind and affectionate husband and father. His death is also mourned by grandchildren, great-grandchildren and a host of friends. In 1847 Mr. and Mrs. Gentry came to Missouri, living there until 1865 when they came to Nebraska, where they lived until the husband was called to his final resting place. Mr. Gentry became a member of the Christian church in early life, and remained faithful to that church until Death claimed him for his own.

Died, at the residence of her sister, Mrs. St. Clair, in Whitesville, June 3, Mrs. Kate Ashley, aged 42 years, 1 month and 4 days. She was born and raised in Andrew county, and was married to T. G. Ashely some 17 years ago. Of this union there were born ten children, eight of them now living. She united with the M. E. church when about twenty years of age and has always lived a pure and faithful life. While she has often known sorrow and great suffering, her life was characterized by patient endurance and thoughtfulness for others; and it can truly be said that by her quiet and Godly life, she influenced all with whom she was associated to higher, nobler, purer lives. God in his goodness saw fit to remove her from those who loved her and whose happiness has been her constant care, and place her in that home prepared for the pure in heart. Mrs. Ashley has been a constant sufferer for more than five months, yet her life was not despaired of until a few days previous to death. Her last moments were joyful, and were spent in trying to lead those she loved to Him who doeth all things well. She was buried from her home, near Rush, on Sunday afternoon, Rev. Kutzner conducting the funeral services.

James was not at home at the time of the fire. But his wife and son and father and mother were at home. Matthew George, the father, is a paralytic and an imbecile, perfectly helpless, and would have perished in the flames had it not been for the timely arrival of Samuel Martin, who rushed into the burning building and dragged the old man from his bed not two minutes before the roof fell in. Lamar Station would have had a first-class conflagration, if it had not been for the many buildings in the vicinity of the fire, which have been moved to Elmo and Dawson.

Sarah Elizabeth George was born in Ohio, August 21, 1836. When ten years of age, she, with her parents, moved to Andrew county, Missouri, and settled southwest of Whitesville where she lived until her death which came after a long illness, Monday morning, March 31. On February 14, 1864, she was married to Jesse Clemmens and to this union three children were born, William of Omaha Nebraska, George L, living near the old home, and Edward L. of Hebron, Nebraska. She was a loving wife, a faithful mother, and a friend to all who knew her. Although her cross was heavy during some six years of her late life her Christian character shown out as the noon-day sun. No one met her but who was made stronger in his Christian faith. Hers was a well-rounded out Christian life.

Besides the husband, three sons and a number of grandchildren, she leaves two sisters, Mrs. N J Ashley, who has so tenderly cared for her during her affliction and Mrs. Ella Eppler of Colorado, who hold her memory sacred.

The funeral services were conducted from the Rea church by a former pastor, Rev. C. S. Crowder of Cameron, Missouri, assisted by Rev. E. O. Wells of Bolckow and R. F. George, a relative of the family from Newton, Kansas. The body was placed in the McLaughlin cemetery southeast of Wyeth.

Mrs. Walton Frank, Mrs. Anderson Craig and J. R. Brink of Maryville went to Graham Monday morning to be at the bedside of little Marjory [sic], the 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gex, who was so badly burned last Thursday as to be in a very critical condition.

The child and her little sister were playing in the sitting room of the Gex residence near Graham when her clothing caught fire, supposedly from the stove hearth. A girl who was employed in the Gex family was scrubbing in another room and attracted by the child's screams ran in and seeing what was the matter threw a bucket of water on the child, thus extinguishing the flames, but not before the little girl was badly burned, especially above the waist. She has been unconscious since Thursday and the attending physician gives no hopes for her recovery.

Robert Gex, father of the child, had been to Kentucky on a month's visit and returned on the night of the accident. Mrs. Will Montjoy, a sister of the little victim, arrived Saturday from Warsaw, Kentucky, and William Gex, a brother of the child who is attending the State University at Columbia, was telegraphed for.
