Fillmore Lever. Just before noon today a telephone message was received stating that Uncle Charley Gladfelter was dying at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Leah Hopkins, seven miles west of Skidmore. Sam Gladfelter left at once for his father's bedside. Uncle Charley Gladfelter was an old citizen of Fillmore, and probably possessed as many fast friends as anyone, and as few enemies. His death will be generally regretted.

Uncle Charley Gladfelter died at 3 a.m. Friday, the 22nd, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Leah Hopkins, near Skidmore. The remains were brought here and funeral services were held at the Methodist church Saturday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Sauceman. Uncle Charley was born in Pike county Ohio, Sept. 17, 1825. He has lived in Fillmore many years, until two years ago, his wife crossed over to the other shore, since then he has divided his time among his children, spending part of the time with a daughter, Mrs. Jas. Gann in Jewel, Kansas, part with Mrs. Hopkins and with his son Sam of this place. He will be greatly missed, for everybody loved him. For many years he had been an ardent member of the Methodist church and lived a clean, Christian life. The relatives have the sympathy of the entire community.

Fillmore. October 8. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gladfelter received word Monday morning that Mr. Gladfelter's sister Mrs. Leah Henderson died early Monday morning at her home in Skidmore.

Date of death: 3 Oct 1918

Subject: Otis Gladfelter

Source: Andrew County [MO] Democrat, 11 Oct 1918, Friday, p. 4

Fillmore Sunday was the sad scene of a double funeral, that of Otis Gladfelter and Dick Beasley, first cousins, who died in two different states and the parents of both were unaware of the demise of the other, the funeral occuring [sic] from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gladfelter.

Otis Gladfelter was 36 years of age and had been living in Manhatten [sic], Kansas, where he followed the barber trade. Recently he was afflicted there with pneumonia and died October 3. His wife formerly was Miss Maude Miller of Savannah.

Dick Beasley was 31 years of age and had been following the oil trade for the past few years at Tulsa, Oklahoma, and upon contracting the same form of illness as his cousin Otis, died of it, Friday, October 4th. His father Theodore Beasley is well known in Fillmore but of late has been residing in Kansas City, MO.

The remains of Mr. Beasley arrived Sunday morning in Fillmore from Tulsa and upon learning that Otis' funeral was to occur that day, a double funeral was arranged and the services were said by Rev. Dorcas, recently ascently [sic] assigned to the Fillmore district, burial taking place in the Fillmore cemetery. The body of Mr. Beasley was placed in the Beasley lot, and lies near the remains of his mother, four sisters and two brothers.

Clyde Berry of this city is a first cousin to both of the deceased. Both branches of the Beasley and Gladfelter families are well known in Fillmore and Andrew county, both families settling in this county in early years.

Fillmore. October 8. Those who attended the funeral services of Otis Gladfelter and Dick Beasley from a distance were, Mrs. Julia Vanallen and son Emery Gann from Iowa City, Kan., Mrs. Leroy Alley from St. Joseph, Theodore Beasley and Charles Beasley and wife of Kansas City, Mrs. Lizzie Berry and two children, Clyde Berry and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Frodsham and Mrs. Todd, Mrs. Ruddell from Savannah and Mr. and Mrs. Dillen from Rosendale

The funeral services for Otis Gladfelter and Dick Beasley were held Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gladfelter. Rev. Dorcas conducted the services and a very large crowd was in attendance. Otis Gladfelter was born at Fillmore, April 12, 1883, and died at his home at Mankato, Kansas, October 3, 1918, at the age of 35 years, 5 months and 21 days. He was united in marriage to Miss Maude Miller of Savannah, March 29, 1903. To them were born three children, Lucile, Dortha [sic] and Leroy, who with his wife and his parents Samuel and Jennie Gladfelter of Fillmore survive him. Otis had a brother Clifford, who preceded him on the highway into the beyond January 24, 1893. Otis was a man of kindly spirit in his home and the community. At about 18 years of age he made a profession of faith in Jesus as his Savior, but never joined any church. Suddenly cut off in the middle of the day, life is gone from this earth and the sympathy of the Fillmore community is in special manner reached out to the wife and two [sic] children of Otis who on account of sickness were not present at the funeral service. Interment was in the Fillmore cemetery.

From the Fillmore Lever: Sabina Gladfelter was born in Grundy county, Ohio, Dec. 26, 1827. Departed this life at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Luetta Pierce, six and one half miles northeast of Fillmore, July 18, 1907; aged 79 years, 6 months and 22 days. She was married to Silas Wheaton in the year 1845. In 1865 she and her husband came from Ohio to Andrew county, where they resided until the latter's death April 4, 1902. Their union was blessed with eleven children, seven of whom survive. Their names and places of residence are as follows: James C., Maryville; William, of Independence, John of St. Joseph, Wesley, of Rose, Kas., Mrs. Priscilla Berry and Mrs. Sarah E. Barnes, of Fillmore. The exact date of sister Wheaton's union with the church is not known. But very early in her girlhood days she united with the Methodist church and remained a faithful and loyal member of the same until she went to join the church triumphant. The funeral service was conducted by her pastor at the M. E. church Saturday, July 29, at 2 p.m., where a large concourse of sympathizing friends gathered to pay their last tribute of respect to this well known and most estimable lady.

Subject: Thomas H. Gladman

Thomas Gladman, the man who built the first house in Hopkins, died Friday afternoon at his home in that town. He had been a resident of Hopkins for forty years.

His death was due to the infirmities of old age. He was 73 years old.

He was born in Licking county, Ohio, in 1837. He moved to Illinois in early life and at the beginning of the war enlisted in the Fulton county, Illinois regulars. He served throughout the war, being at Appomattox at the surrender of General Lee.

He came with his family to Hopkins in 1871, and followed the trade of a carpenter.

He is survived by a wife and two daughters, one of whom, Mrs. Al Reeder, lived at Hopkins. He has a brother, Milton Gladman, living at Kansas City. He formerly lived at Hopkins.

Date of death: 13 Feb 1917

Subject: William R. Gladstone

Source: The [Grant City MO] Times-Tribune, 21 Feb 1917, Wednesday, p. 1

W. R. Gladstone, of Worth, died at 11:40 last Tuesday morning at the Nichols Sanitorium in Savannah where he had been the past three weeks taking treatment for cancer. He had been taking treatment since last fall when a cancer came on his lip but they gradually spread to his face and neck and has been confined to his home south of Worth most of the time since. He went to Savannah about three weeks ago for final treatments but gradually grew weaker and on Sunday his throat became paralyzed so that he could not swallow. His death followed last Tuesday morning his son, Gilbert, being the only member of the family present at the time, his brother, George, having just left the bedside to go to dinner.

The folks from home were called Sunday and W. G., George and Walter Gladstone went there, Geo. returning home Monday night and he and Alex Gladstone, of this city, went to Savannah Tuesday morning but their brother was dead before they arrived.

William R. Gladstone, son of Walter and Jane Gladstone, was born in Ayr, Ontario, Canada, March 17th, 1850. In 1869 with his parents they moved to Missouri locating on the farm now owned by Walter Gladstone. He secured a good high school education in Canada and has always been very active in local affairs and was an expert book keeper. He was married February 20, 1877, to Miss Malinda Ann Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Walker and to them were born two children: Walter Gilbert and Ruth Ann Canaday, both of near Worth and who survive him.

He is also survived by three brothers: George and Walter, f near Gentry, and Alexander, of Grant City; and by two sisters: Ann Gladstone who makes her home with Walter Gladstone, and Mrs. Mary Clark of Gothensburg, Neb. Two sisters are dead.

With the exception of ten or twelve years when he was located at Platte City, Mo., he spent his life in the vicinity of Worth since coming to the United States.

Mr. Gladstone was thrifty and had accumulated considerable property and was a stockholder in the Bank of Gentry.

The remains was [sic] brought to Worth last Wednesday from Savannah accompanied by his son, W. G., and brother, George. Funeral services were held Thursday at the Knox Presbyterian church after which the remains were interred in the cemetery nearby.

Subject: Alta Mae (Glass) Gallimore

Source: The St. Louis [MO] Republic, 13 Jul 1903, Monday, p. 5

² The headline says Glancy.

St. Joseph, Mo., July 12—Mrs. John Mackey [sic] died to-day from pistol wounds received early this morning at No. 209 Main street, where she is alleged to have been decoyed by William A. Matzinger. Matzinger has been in love with the woman for a year, and when she jilted him for another, he made threats against her life. She met him by agreement, and was soon afterwards fatally wounded. Matzinger turned the revolver on himself and put three bullets into his body. His death is expected.

The next murder case to be taken up will be that of William Matzinger charged with killing May Gallimore. The Matzinger case will be taken up next Monday. Matzinger is charged with shooting to death the Gallimore woman, in a Main street resort. He is said to have been infatuated with the woman.

Same

Source: St. Joseph [MO] News-Press, 23 Oct 1903, Friday, p. 6

[from a longer article] ... William Matzinger, the man who killed Alta May Gallimore, has the favorable construction placed upon his case that while the commission of the act which caused May Gallimore's life to go out must be proved beyond a reasonable doubt, his insanity must be established only to the reasonable satisfaction of the jury to assure a verdict of acquittal. The jury was instructed, however, that the insanity to relieve the accused of responsibility for the murder—if the killing was established—must be such as to preclude the accused from distinguishing between right and wrong.

[Medical testimony] ... Among the problems laid down by the medical men which the jurors will have to consider are the theories that suicidal and homicidal insanity cannot exist at the same time in the deranged brain of one person; that the melancholia which would lead one to kill a fellow human being would have killed himself when he realized what he had done; that William Matzinger became insane when he left his home, deserted a path of rectitude and abandoned the ambitions of life to become the paramour of a fallen woman, because of an infatuation which he could not resist; that Matzinger might have been sane or insane under the conditions described by the hypothetical questions submitted, that Matzinger was insane and that Matzinger was sane.

[Opening argument] ... Never before has there been a case tried in the courts of St. Joseph which has thrown a light so searching upon the moral and domestic life of a portion of the population whose mode of existence has been an unknown factor in social conditions. The officers of the court have expressed surprise at the revelations of the trial, in which it has appeared that men and women have maintained their residences together for long periods of time to finally give the sanction of law to their contracts, or drift into lower strata of vice and degradation.

In argument the state's attorneys emphasized the theory entertained that Matzinger lured Alta May Gallimore to her death with malice and after deliberation, while the attorneys for the accused relied for an acquittal upon the theory that through the degrading influences of the dead woman herself, William Matzinger had become a moral degenerate, mentally irresponsible for the results of the moment when his wild hand was raised against his erring sweetheart.

Date of death: 22 Mar 1906

Subject: Milan C. Glass

Milan Glass of Maryville died at midnight Thursday night in Upland, Cal. He was 24 years of age and had been a sufferer from consumption for more than a year.

The word of his death reached his sister, Miss Edith Glass, Friday night at her home on East Sixth street through he aunt, Mrs. John Heller, who arrived in Maryville from Topeka, Kan., to await the coming of the remains from Upland, Cal.

Mrs. Heller had been notified at once and started immediately for Maryville to be with Miss Glass, whose family was at Upland.

When death came to the young man, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Glass, and their younger son, Claude Glass, were with him.

Last April Milan Glass left Maryville for Colorado Springs, Col., in search of health, and three months ago he went to California, his parents accompanying him.

Mrs. Glass had been with her son since his departure from Maryville, and Mrs. [sic] Glass joined them several months ago.

The young man was graduated from the Maryville seminary and then took a position in the bank at Ravenwood. Later he was employed in the Maryville National bank.

When his health gave way it was hoped a year in the west would restore his strength. At first he seemed to improve, but later began to decline and grew steadily worse.

The body will probably reach Maryville next Tuesday.

Date of death: 25 Feb 1923

Subject: Wesley William Glass

Word has been received of the death of Wesley W. Glass of Denver, Colo., a former resident of Maryville and Nodaway county for a number of years. According to the message from Mr. Glass' son-in-law, Arthur B. Condon, his death occurred Sunday night following an illness of uremic poisoning. One son, Milan C. Glass, is buried in Miriam cemetery in Maryville and Mr. Glass' body will probably be brought here for burial.

He was born in Hancock county, Illinois, January 4, 1850, where he grew to maturity on the home farm. He taught school during the winter months for several years, farming in the summer, remaining at home until he was thirty years old. He then turned his attention to merchandising at Burnside, Illinois, at which place he was also postmaster, and was thus engaged for two years.

Abandoning the mercantile business he returned to the farm and continued there until 1883, when he sold out and came to Nodaway county buying a farm ten miles southeast of Maryville. There he lived for twenty years, then sold that place and bought a farm two miles north of Maryville, where he lived for two years, then sold out and moved to Maryville. He spent some time traveling in the west and promiscuous trading in Maryville. In 1903 he engaged in the real estate business with Austin L. Nash, which he continued, with the exception of three years, to 1913.

Mr. Glass married on October 12, 1879, Hulda E. McMullen, a sister of C. G. McMillen of Pickering. Besides his widow he is survived by two children, Mrs. Arthur B. Condon of Denver, Colo., and Claude W. Glass of Hot Springs, Colo. Four grandchildren, Ethel Martha, George William and Jimmie Condon and George Curtis Glass, also survive. The latter grandson was born last Friday night.

Mr. Glass belonged to the First Christian Church in Maryville of which he was an elder, having performed the duties of that office for a period of more than twenty-five years. He also served as deacon for a number of years. Mr. and Mrs. Glass built the residence at 217 East Seventh street, which is now owned and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lyle.

Word came to this city last night conveying the intelligence of the death of Henry E. Glazier, at Guthrie where he has been sick for some time. For some years past he has been a sufferer from kidney trouble to which he finally succumbed.

Few men in eastern Oklahoma were more widely known than Henry Glazier. Early in the history of this territory he secured a fine farm which adjoined the townsite of Orlando. There he engages in raising fine cattle and at one time was reputed to have the finest herd in Oklahoma. He also took a keen interest in politics. At an early date he became a member of the board of regents of the A. & M. College of this city. Later he became a member of the faculty and occupied the position of Professor of Horticulture. This position he held for about three years and when out of that became interested in a mining project in Arkansas and Missouri. Associated with him in these schemes are several [sic] persons of this city who think some of the projects are very promising.

Date of death: 17 May 1914

Subject: Joseph Knight Glenn

Joseph K. Glenn died at his home in Burlington Junction at 1:45 o'clock Saturday morning following an illness of a few weeks. Death was due to neuralgia of the heart and dropsy. He was 71 years, 3 months and 21 days old at the time of his death.

Mr. Glenn has not been in good health for several years but he first became seriously ill about four weeks ago. From the time he first became bedfast he grew despondent and seemed to realize that the end was near. He was taken to the Clarinda hospital for treatment two weeks ago but his condition continued to grow worse and the physicians advised that he be brought home, and Monday of last week his son, Jack, and Stanley Evans brought him back to Burlington Junction. He failed rapidly until early Saturday morning when he quietly passed away.

Joseph Knight Glenn was born in Louisville, Ky., January 5, 1843. When still a small boy he moved with his parents to Athens, Ill., where he grew to manhood. He enlisted in the service for the National Union in August, 1862, Company K., 106 Regiment of the Illinois Volunteer Infantry. He served his country faithfully until the close of the war, in April 1865, when he received an honorable discharge from the service.

Mr. Glenn came to Missouri in 1872, settling on a farm five miles southwest of Burlington Junction. On February 26, 1880, he was united in marriage with Susan Jane Hagey at Maryville. To this union were born eleven children, six of whom survive. They are Mrs. S. J. Parker, Council Bluffs, Iowa, W. G. Glenn, Peoria, Ill., J. F. Glenn, Omaha, Neb., J. J. Glenn, Burlington Junction, Mrs. A. E. Halstead, Phoenix, Ariz., Ava Cora Glenn, Council Bluffs, Iowa. All the children were present at the funeral except Mrs. Parker who is in very poor health. Mr. Glenn is also survived by three grandchildren, Leland Parker, Fern Reavis and John Morris Glenn, and a brother, Wm. Glenn of Walback, Neb., and a sister, Mrs. Ruth O'Brien of Springfield, Ill.

Early in life Mr. Glenn professed religion and united with the Old School Presbyterians in Illinois, but upon moving away he never transferred his membership.

About five years ago Mr. Glenn retired from farming and moved to Burlington Junction where he lived at the time of his death. Mr. Glenn was well and favorable [sic] known in this part of the county and he leaves a host of friends, beside the immediate family, to mourn his departure.

The funeral service was held in the Christian church at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Jno. W. Love. The pall bearers were W. H. Davis, John Finnell, A. F. Stitt, Lee Stafford, Tip Calloway, and Fayette Yates, all veterans of the civil war. The pall bearers accompanied the remains to the Quitman cemetery, with the exception of Mr. Davis, whose place was taken by A. Johnston at Quitman.

Otto August Gnuschke was born at St. Joseph, August 28, 1873, and passed away at his home in Helena, April 2, 1919, at the age of 45 years, 7 months and 10 days.

On June 28, 1898, he was married to Miss Annie Farrell. To this union were born five daughters, Lillie, Millie, Edna, Irene, Margie and one son, Milton.

With the sorrowing wife and children he leaves his father William Gnuschke, two sisters, Mrs. Albert Miller of Cosby; Mrs. John Hoover of Helena; three brothers, William, John and Carl of Helena and many other relatives and friends who mourn his going. His mother, four sisters and one brother preceded him to the better world.

He was converted and united with the church in early youth and remained true to his faith, and was a member of the M. E. Church at Cosby.

Mr. Gnuschke was a devoted husband, kind father and good neighbor. His aim was so to live that when the death summons came, he could say, 'Let me die the death of the righteous and let my last end be like His.' Three years ago he dreamed he died and went to heaven, saw his mother and sisters. His mother wanted him to stay with her, but he said he would go back to take care of Annie and the children a little while longer. 'Certainly, it was just a little while longer.'

The church could not accommodate the large crowd who attended the funeral services which were conducted at the Helena M. E. Church Sunday, April 6, 1919, at 11 a.m. with the address by his pastor Rev. F. G. Hilbers, assisted by Rev. R. R. Brand. The body was laid to rest in the Lord Branch cemetery. All extend heartfelt sympathy to the loved ones and commend them to the Christ, who can calm and soothe the sorrowing hearts.
